

JAVIER TORRES

Born in Madrid, 20 July 195. Painter and Graphic Designer

He studied Law and Communication in College. He introduced himself in Publicity and Design studies and finally he devoted all of his time to Graphic Composition and Painting.

His painting offers a very particular overview of every day scenery; an undefined allusion to the autumn ochre colors and the schematic nakedness of winter time where a great part of the prominence lies in the complexity of his forms.

The Quality that he visually gives his projects reaches in some occasions an almost super-natural eloquence, in which he learns how to decipher codes and underlying iconography, achieving the objective of proximity and familiarity that the artist conceived from the beginning.

His eye bursts onto subconscious scenarios, managing to impart a rigorous, hierarchical condition, that is, at the same time, seductive.

His work goes farther than the conventional cannons, he is interested in those things that normally go unnoticed, it is the clandestine and unknown in things that always draws his attention, the ethereal and serene landscapes in which he gets to capture the most fleeting moments of the human existence.
